

Positive linear relationship between player performance and GP in post-COVID season

Higher performing players more likely to play during the COVID season

